

The Depot Train Station

Where the past becomes the future through revitalization

The Town of Salem New Hampshire, through the Depot Revitalization Committee and the Historic District Commission, is moving forward with the rehabilitation of the structure with the intention to bring back an integral corner stone in the Town's past. This structure represents the corner stone to the past and a new future for commercial activity centered on the Depot intersection. The Depot Train Station is a symbol of the beginning of commerce in Salem and will reinvigorate a renewed commercial future based on the integrity and character of the past.

Get on-Board, we are on the move.....

The project is planned in a three-phase revitalization program; Hazardous materials removal and partial demolition has been completed; Structural and building envelope improvements are near completion; and building finish work, fixtures, tenant fit-up and completion are scheduled over the winter and spring. The Town has provided the building, the property, and $65,000 toward a successful hazardous materials removal and partial historically inappropriate addition demolition. The Historical Society, through the Depot Station Committee, has raised sufficient funds to make structural and building envelope improvements, which are nearing completion. We now need the finishing touches, those improvements that make all the difference.
